

Man In The Moon

An old grey man
carrying a lantern
across the sky.
Expecting a smile?

To light the night
and warm lover's
faces with beams of white?

Mouth like a crater, eyes trying to focus acknowledging the metamorphosis –

crescent
half full

A man mysterious
and laughing, a child who imagines I am cheese?
I am neither of these.